DALLAS, Portland Advance to L.L.Bean PBA League Elias Cup Finals

Strikers sweep Philadelphia to keep bid for back-to-back titles alive while Lumberjacks win a thriller

PORTLAND, Maine – The excitement generated from four sudden-death roll-offs in the quarterfinals continued to build in the L.L.Bean PBA League semifinal round at Bayside Bowl when the defending champion Shipyard Dallas Strikers swept their best-of-two-game match against the Sysco Philadelphia Hitmen while the local-favorite L.L.Bean Portland Lumberjacks won a stunning sudden-death battle over the Live + Work in Maine Silver Lake Atom Splitters to set up the finalists for next Sunday’s Elias Cup finals.

The best-of-two-game semifinal matches aired Sunday on ESPN. The PBA League Elias Cup will be decided next Sunday at 1 p.m. EDT on ESPN in a showdown involving singles, doubles, trios and Baker team matches.

Employing a strategy that proved successful in the opening round, Dal-las player-manager Norm Duke disregarded his personal views, electing to put his team on the more consistent right lane for the first game in order to finish continued on page 10.

Duke Comes Through in 10th Frame to Win PBA50 Race City Open for Fourth Career PBA50 Tour Title

Duke strikes on first ball in 10th frame of championship match on way to 221-213 win over Kenny Parks

MOORESVILLE, N.C. – After a heartbreaking loss in the 10th frame of the championship match of the season-opening PBA50 Pasco County Florida Open, PBA Hall of Famer Norm Duke of Clermont, Fla., got some redemption by sealing the deal in the 10th frame of the PBA50 Race City Open presented by Columbia 300 Wednesday to notch his fourth career PBA50 Tour title.

Thanks to a clutch strike on the first ball of the 10th, Duke defeated top qualifier Kenny Parks of Hammond, Ind., 221-213, in the title match at George Pappas’ Victory Lanes.

“I tell you, nothing’s a given,” Duke said. “You just can’t take anything for granted. It seems like the lanes are changing every frame and it’s all you can do to get to the pocket. It’s a lot of guesswork and fortunately I guessed right this time.”

Taking the lead into the 10th frame of the Pasco County Open two weeks ago, Duke left the 2-4-8-10 split which handed the win over to Brian LeClair of Delmar, N.Y., for his second PBA50 Tour title.

“There’s one philosophy that says, put those situations behind you and move on, but for me, I stew over it,” said Duke, who ranks third on the all-time PBA Tour titles list with 38 wins. “That was a learning experience and I want to learn from it. I don’t want to get into a second-place cycle.”

Duke was able to overcome two splits in the Race City Open title match that he failed to convert but was able to come back with strikes at the end of the match when he needed them.

CHICAGO — The Professional Bowlers Association (PBA) returns to CBS Sports Network for the new Main Event PBA Tour Finals in Orlando, Fla. The Network will telecast five consecutive, two-hour shows on Tuesday nights involving eight PBA Tour stars beginning on Tuesday, May 30 at 6:30 P.M.

Players who will compete in the invitational special event include Australia’s Jason Belmonte; EJ Tackett of Huntington, Ind.; Dom Barrett of England; Sweden’s Jesper Svensson; Anthony Simonsen of Austin, Texas; Ryan Ciminelli of Cheektowaga, N.Y.; Tommy Jones of Simpsonville, S.C., and Sean Rash of Montgomery, Ill. They are the PBA’s top eight in composite earnings over the past three seasons.

Individual career highlights include:

- Belmonte, a 14-time PBA Tour titlist, is a three-time PBA Player of the Year (and former Rookie of the Year) and winner of the 2017 Barbasol PBA Players Championship and USBC Masters.
- Tackett, a seven-time PBA Tour champion, is the reigning PBA Player of the Year and winner of the 2016 PBA World Championship and 2017 FireLake PBA Tournament of Champions.
- Barrett, a five-time PBA Tour winner, was 2013 PBA World Champion.
- Svensson, the first player to win five PBA Tour titles by age 21, is the 2016 FireLake PBA Tournament of Champions winner.
- Simonsen, a two-time Tour titlist, won the 2016 USBC Masters to become the youngest player ever to win a major title at age 19.
- Ciminelli, a seven-time title winner, won the 2015 U.S. Open.
- Jones, an 18-time title winner, has won two majors and is one of four players to earn both PBA Rookie of the Year and Player of the Year honors.
- Rash, an 11-time titlist, has won two majors and was 2012 PBA Player of the Year.

The Main Event PBA Tour finals will utilize a similar format to the tennis ATP Tour, dividing the field into two four-player groups for round-robin match play and award 50 bonus pins for each match win. Group A will include Belmonte, Svensson, Simonsen and Rash. Group B will include Tackett, Barrett, Ciminelli and Jones.

The first round will involve head-to-head matches within each group leading to Group A and Group B stepladder finals. The final two-hour telecast will include a match between the runners-up in each group for third place, and a three-game, total pinfall championship match between the Group A and B stepladder winners.

CBS Sports Network is available across the country through local cable, video and telco providers and via satellite on DirecTV Channel 221 and Dish Network Channel 158. For more information, including a full programming schedule, and how to get CBS Sports Network, go to www.cbssportsnetwork.com

This will be the second PBA event hosted by Main Event in 2017. Earlier this year, Main Event Entertainment hosted the Main Event Terrell Owens PBA Super Clash in Katy, Texas.
The Original History of YET?

In 2005 at the European Youth Bowling Championships (YEC 2005) in Wommelgem Belgium, a suburb of Antwerp, Arny Goossens from Belgium and Gerard van Dam a Dutchman came together by chance at the bar of the bowling center. At that moment, meanwhile both are watching the games, the common idea of creating the “Youth Euro Trophy” Tour was created. Analogue to the European Tenpin Bowling Tour for Adults. A tour especially for youth did not exist in Europe yet.

Both became more and more enthusiastic during the conversation and believe it or not but the first ideas were recorded on the back of a beer mall.

And now, YET has become a board organizing special youth tournaments in six different European countries (Great Britain / Scotland, Denmark, Ireland, France, Belgium, and The Netherlands) between September and May. Where the best talented youth bowlers of Each country compete in competition for The EURO TROPHY. And like any start of an idea, they did not go without hype or bumps. The ETBF - European Tenpin Bowling Federation – and the NBF the Dutch Bowling Federation both were very skeptical at the beginning of the idea of organizing a special Youth Tour in addition to the Adult Tour. But the volunteers continue their idea and the Youth Euro Tour is now seen as a stage where talented youth players are very welcome to meet the best youth players from different European countries.

Mission

In an interview with Dutch YET secretary Monica Koudstaal and Louis van der Heiden, Dutch Yet committee member became clear what the Mission and Vision are.

The main goal is to make the best talented youth bowlers from different countries come together and contribute to increasing the game quality of these players. In a world where opposites and intolerance between people of different cultures and descent grow, YET also makes the opposite. Bowling automatically creates a connection between children from those countries... And even long-term contacts between children. You can see here that sports connects and breaks cultures and descent grow, YET also makes the opposite. Bowling automatically creates a connection between children from those countries. And those who have not been able to participate for a long time because they are over 22 years of age keep looking for each other, even celebrate holidays.

Of course, there is a fierce battle for titles and the trophy, but the most important thing is that the atmosphere is extremely relaxed.

Some former players who participated at the Youth Euro Tour, Maria Balunova, winner Gold medal single title at EYC 2016.

Finals

On Friday, May 26th, the finals will be played in the French city REIMS.

Boys and girls from 7 different countries have placed themselves through the previous events for this final. And by category one will compete for the title European YET champion.

Each player is officially invited by the board of YET.

Will the level of the Finals in Reims be high? Hell yes! Will Denise Blankenzee, Holland’s extraordinarily talented bowler, and brand new European Youth Champion 2017 in Helsinki, also become winner of the Youth Euro Trophy in Reims France? Or will Danish Megan Gales Dicay from Denmark want to revoke?

Follow the finals and click on the site for rankings http://www.y-e-t.eu/

Are there still dreams for YET?

Hell yes! Monica s Koudstaal’s dream is that YET finalists ever met players from Asia and the United States of America’s and other continents, fighting for the World Youth Trophy. And as it goes with all dreams, they once become reality. E-mail: monica.koudstaal@yet-netherlands.com for more info.

CHICAGO — PBA Hall of Famer Pete Weber, well-known for his fiery temperament when things are going well, helped provide a dash of fire to the Chicago Wolves hockey team prior to their entry into the American Hockey League playoffs.

It happened like this: the Wolves’ President Mike Gordon, who has worked with Chicagooland Bowling Proprietors’ Association Executive Director Bill Duff on a variety of cooperative promotions, asked Duff if he could get in touch with Weber, who is well-known to a few of the Wolves’ players through videos of Weber they have watched, including PDW’s infamous U.S. Open trophy-drop and his “Who do you think you are?” rant after winning the 2012 U.S. Open. Weber’s fierce spirit caught on with the team, so Gordon wondered if Weber would deliver a surprise inspirational message to the Wolves to amp them up for their playoff run.

Duff sent a text message to Weber who was competing at Bayside Bowl in Portland, Maine, and Weber was eager to help—in part because the Wolves are the “AAA level” affiliate of the NHL St. Louis Blues, Weber’s hometown hockey team. Assisted by PBA’s Main Xtra Frame crew, Weber’s message was shown to the Wolves prior to their first Calder Cup playoffs game vs. the Charlotte Checkers. For the record, the Wolves lost their first playoff game against Charlotte, but roared back to win the best-of-five game series, 3-2.

Gordon wondered if Weber would deliver a surprise inspirational message to the Wolves before their entry into the Calder Cup playoffs game. As we passed through Vista on Hwy 78, I noticed that there was a bowling center. I mentioned to my husband that this looked like a nice little town AND it had a bowling center. I had been bowling since I was nine years old, so it was a priority for me to be near a center when we relocated.

Subsequently, we settled in Vista and the day we arrived with all of our worldly goods, I did not even unpack one bag before I drove to the bowl and signed up for the Murphy Classic League. I have bowled in that center every year since then and now the shock is still wearing off because the icon of Vista is going to close at the end of this month. Bill Harmatz, a jockey, was the owner. He was so dedicated to the bowlers, especially the kids in the youth program that I could not help but feel so welcomed in that building. My kids, many of you know, Christopher and Matthew, bowled in that program until they outgrew it. Matthew still bowls and of course, Christopher you know as the photographer who travels statewide to do photos for men, women and youth events.

The fact that it will be turning into a Honda dealership caused even the male bowlers at the center to shed some tears. We will all miss this place and are now hoping that someone will come along to start another bowling center business in Vista and replace the “VEC”. I cannot begin to relate the memories that we have over the past 40 plus years. For a small town and small association, we have put our mark on the bowling family of California.

Dateline 1976: My husband, two kids, two cats and I were traveling from San Diego to Los Angeles to find a home in Southern California with plans to settle somewhere in this area. As we passed through Vista on Hwy 78, I noticed that there was a bowling center. I mentioned to my husband that this looked like a nice little town AND it had a bowling center. I had been bowling since I was nine years old, so it was a priority for me to be near a center when we relocated.

Subsequently, we settled in Vista and the day we arrived with all of our worldly goods, I did not even unpack one bag before I drove to the bowl and signed up for the Murphy Classic League. He was so dedicated to the bowlers, especially the kids in the youth program that I could not help but feel so welcomed in that building. My kids, many of you know, Christopher and Matthew, bowled in that program until they outgrew it. Matthew still bowls and of course, Christopher you know as the photographer who travels statewide to do photos for men, women and youth events.

The fact that it will be turning into a Honda dealership caused even the male bowlers at the center to shed some tears. We will all miss this place and are now hoping that someone will come along to start another bowling center business in Vista and replace the “VEC”. I cannot begin to relate the memories that we have over the past 40 plus years. For a small town and small association, we have put our mark on the bowling family of California.

Before Bill Harmatz passed away, he would show up at the center at 4am to give a pep talk to all of Phyllis Bourque’s youth bowlers going to state tournament that year. He was there when we came back, so proud of what we had done….it didn’t matter that the kids had a rough time on the lanes….he was proud of them anyway. The fact is, that we are all going to miss that place….our home away from home. Most every bowler who grew up here was still around when the shocking news hit. Oh, no. That could not be true….but it was. Some of us tried to figure out what we could do to keep our beloved bowling center…..but to no avail. It was a “done deal”. So here we are, wondering how the City of Vista would survive without the proverbial meeting place where so many memories have become a part of our lives over these decades.

We managed to host the State Championship Tournament for the youth several times over those decades. We had a ball welcoming everyone into our fair city and especially our bowling center that we loved so much. We could not have been prouder of our city, our bowlers and our bowling center personnel.

So where do we go from here? We are not quite sure how we are going to handle this situation, but I know this. If there is a chance to bring a new center to the City of Vista, CA it will be done. Nothing can replace all the memories we have had over the decades, but we will continue to keep the faith and hope that a new center is in our future. Good-bye, “VEC”!!! You will be so missed.

Calendar brought to you by California Bowling Writers (www.calbowlingwriters.org)
San Rafael — May 5-7 was Women’s only weekend at the California State Championships at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael.

Bowling traditions continue as several teams have been bowling together for years and look forward to receiving participation awards. In fact, the Women’s only weekend for 2018 at Keystone Lanes in Norwalk, Sunday noon squad is already full. Bowlers said we need to bring back that “Lookin’ Good” Award. Most teams had their matching shirts and were definitely “Lookin’ Good”. The Pro Shop was full of ladies shopping for tournament shirts and other bowling equipment.

California USBC officials, Kathy Bruegeman and Ma- bel Sheasley presented Debbie Begley & Suzan Vowels of Alameda County USBC with their 2016 B-Division Doubles 1st place awards.

Jean Ruffner, President of Tulare USBC, rolled a 627 series and Liz Greiner of Alameda USBC rolled a 606 series. High games for the weekend included Michelle VanWyke 246, Heidi Hamman 243, Tracy Butcher 243, and Randi Burks 238. Several 200+ game awards were presented as well as first time participant pins.

Participation Awards presented to tournament bowlers include:

45 years: Pam Costanzo
30 years: Sandra Gilliam, Beverly Pursell, Nancy Dryer, Mary Jean Fassig, 25 years: Laini Davis

Participation Awards presented April 29-30:
45 years: Lynn Smith
40 years: Marilyn Stinisman, Lou Mathews
35 years: Harold Miller
25 years: Kerri Shanaman, Sue Shanaman, Pearl Martin

There will be no bowling May 12-14, Mother’s Day Weekend. There is also no bowling the weekend of June 9-11 as the CalUSBC Convention to be held in Visalia at the Visalia Marriott at that time. The tournament ends June 18.

Check out the California State website at www.calusbc.com for more information and tournament results.

Ironically, less than two weeks earlier, two-time PBA Tour titlist and periodic PBA50 competitor Kent Wagner of Bradenton, Fla., had a similar experience during the USBC Open Championships in Las Vegas. In a widely-distributed video seen on social media outlets, Wagner’s ball also stuck on his thumb, went straight up, poked a hole in the ceiling and the pin out of the pit, but the ball hung up on his thumb.

Giving the field what amounted to an eight-frame head start, he began competition in the ninth frame and bowled a 40 in his first game. He followed it up with games of 225, 248, 246, 257, 197, 211 and 225 which was good enough to finish 44th in qualifying advancing to Wednesday’s cashers round.

Unfortunately he couldn’t get anything going in the cashers round finishing the tournament in 51st and winning $1,000.

Matt O’Grady Escapes Serious Injury After League Bowling Accident

NEW JERSEY — PBA member Matt O’Grady of Rahway, N.J., escaped serious injury when he was struck in the head by his own bowling ball and knocked unconscious during a recent league bowling accident.

After leaving a 4-6-10 split, O’Grady said he was trying to throw his spare ball hard in hopes of bouncing a pin out of the pit, but the ball hung up on his thumb. His hand went straight up, poked a hole in the ceiling and the ball came loose, striking him in the head. He said he lost consciousness momentarily and remembers waking up in a nearby hospital trauma center.

Two weeks later, he’s still suffering from periodic headaches and bouts of nausea, but nothing serious enough to keep him from bowling in the PBA Al Jones Memorial Eastern Open where he finished second to Patrick Allen.

“In the roll-off it’s about heart and determination. All of a sudden we got a second life,” Mack continued. “I knew it was about heart and determination. All of a sudden we got a second life,” Mack continued.

In the second stepladder match, Duke beat last week’s UnitedHealthcare Sun Bowl In The Villages winner Lennie Boresch Jr. of Kenosha, Wis., 232-216, and then went on to beat Sammy Ventura of Syracuse, N.Y., in the semi-final 210-202, to advance to the title match.

In the opening match, Boresch defeated five-time PBA Tour titlist Michael Haugen Jr. of Phoenix, 223-216.

Haugen’s fifth-place finish was his second top-five of the season after finishing third in the Pascoc County Open.

Two-time PBA Tour titlist Jeff Bellinger earned a check the hard way when he showed up late for his second round qualifying squad on Tuesday. Commuting from his home in Columbia, S.C., the 63-year-old Bellinger got caught in a traffic jam caused by road construction in the Charlotte area.

It’s “Flowers For The Living” Time Again

Yes, May does bring flowers; not only in our gardens, but also in the form of one of bowling’s most prestigious awards – The Sam Levine Flowers for the Living Award.

I’ve written about this incredible honor several times over the years, but the story never gets old because we keep adding new chapters.

As chairman of the Flowers Award committee since 2001, it has been my pleasure to guide the committee to elect some truly incredible and deserving winners.

And this year, with the new sponsorship of International Bowling Industry Magazine, we will add one more name to the previous 53 that have been selected since the inaugural award in 1961.

While a sponsor does not have any authority in the award selection other than having one vote, they do make it possible for the award to continue by picking up the costs of the beautiful plaques and flowers given to each winner. Many thanks to Scott Frager and David Garber of IBI for recognizing the importance of keeping the Flowers Award aloft. They have also promised to give the award some space on their IBI website.

A very lovable gentleman named Sam Weinstein was the first official sponsor of the award. Sam owned a wholesale/retail company in Chicago called Universal Bowling and Golf; and although he was not a founding member, he was friends with the six newspapermen who began the award. In 1962, Sam joined the committee and came up with a wonderful description of what the award is all about: “Not necessarily for any great deed or spectacular accomplishment, but just for being a person in our world who truly deserves a put on the back to let them know we love them and admire them for what they have done and stood for.”

Those words penned by Sam, who was also a journalist who owned and operated bowling’s Ten Pin Tattler Radio Show, were so perfect that they still appear on one of the two presentation plaques given to every winner. The second plaque has the list of prior winners and the poem “Flowers for the Living” written by founding member Fritz Howell of the Ohio Associated Press. It was his poem that inspired Cleveland Kegler publisher Sam Levine and the others to start the award.

Luby Publishing, owners of Bowlers Journal Magazine, was also a sponsor for many years during the time that BJ Editor Jim Dressel was chairman of the committee from 1985 – 2000. My company, Pin Point Publishing, was never an official sponsor, but picked up the tab a few times when we were looking for a new sponsor. The members of the committee even stepped up a couple of times to pay the bill. From 2009-14, The Bowling Foundation, a part of the International Bowling Campus, was named official sponsor.

Other founding members of the award aside from Levine and Howell include Steve Cruchon, publisher of the Detroit Bowlers Digest, Billy Sixty of the Milwaukee Journal, Bill Hengen of the Minneapolis Star, and Tom Bolger of the Toledo Blade. All were very well respected journalists, and they covered bowling in its heydays. All are gone now, but not forgotten thanks to their wonderful Flowers Award.

In their wisdom to make the award long lasting, the founders insisted on a few strict rules for the Flowers Award – that no one should ever know they are on the ballot to prevent any influence, and that all committee business be conducted in confidence. They were also a fun loving bunch who thought that a surprise presentation would be loved by all; and even though it is sometimes difficult to keep it on the QT, they were right. Each surprise presentation seems to be better than the one before.

Today, the committee is made up of a panel of about a dozen industry veterans, good people who are active and know who is doing good work in all corners of bowling. All candidates for the award are officially nominated by a committee member, and all winners are selected by the committee in a more ballot process using a proven point system. Committee members do discuss nominees with other committee members, but not beyond the committee.

I like to describe the award as the ‘ultimate integrity award’ – it can go to very high profile and well known people, and it may be given to someone that works behind the scenes that someone gets the recognition they deserve for their attitude and commitment.

One thing that all of the winners seem to have in common – they all do outstanding things beyond the work that they are being paid to do. They serve the entire industry and conduct themselves with dignity, honesty, and respect for everyone around them.

To mention just a few of the winners since I have been chair of the committee – Glenn Allison, Jeanette Robinson, Len Nicholson, Walt Steinsieck, Paula Carter, and John Sommer.

In 2002, the committee selected the great Glenn Allison for the Flowers Award. Jim Dressel, Chuck Pizzano and I surprised him with the award in front of his fellow Hall of Famers in Mobile, Alabama. Glenn is one of those people who just goes about his business with a smile; and when his famous 900 series was denied official recognition in 1982, he made the best of it and even became an ambassador for the organization that many people thought ‘done him wrong’.

When Jeanette Robinson was selected, Dressel and I traveled to her 2004 Golden Ladies Classic Tournament in Las Vegas. Ten Pin Alley publisher Frenchly LeTourneau joined us in the surprise, pulled off in front of all her contestans with the help of Jeanette’s husband Dick Porter.

Phantom Radio Host Lenny Nicholson was the winner in 2007. Lenny got caught like a deer in the headlights in a room full of friends and IBPSIA Pro Shop Operators. Lenny did great work for the PBA and he is a pioneer of internet radio.

Bowling’s best cartoonist Walt Steinsieck took the honors in 2006. The presentation was made a part of the BWAA Awards dinner, and the affable Mr. Steinsieck, who was seldom at a loss for words or cartoons, was at a loss for words... but he did shed a couple of tears, along with many others in the audience.

Paula Carter was a sensational bowler on the lanes, and one of the few professionals who garnered attention in the general sports world because of her striking looks and pleasant personality. She won the award mainly for her work with underprivileged kids in Florida. The surprise presentation was made in front of her husband Don, many family members, and dozens of PBA senior players when Len Nicholson traveled to the PBA senior event her family was hosting. Lenny reported that Don, who won the award in 1986, was happier than Paula that day.

And in 2013, BPAA President Cathy DeSocio had the honor of giving the award to former PWBA owner John Sommer at Bowl Expo. Sommer was honored not only for his contribution to women’s pro bowling, but for his incredible contributions to High School Bowling.

I’m confident that the 2017 winner will make us as proud as all of the others; and I can hardly wait to see who it will be.

Marv Sargent

is Fontana’s Top Senior Bowler

by Frank Weiler

FONTANA — “THE END IS AT HAND”. After over thirty weeks of bowling the season is nearly over and Marv Sargent has emerged as the top senior league bowler in Fontana this season.

It is no surprise that Marv is Fontana’s top senior bowler. Many consider him the top senior bowler in the entire Citrus Belt and one of the best senior bowlers in the state of CALIFORNIA. He has won California state titles, PBA titles and many local tournament titles. So it is no surprise to anyone that Marv is Fontana’s top senior bowler this year.

The Top Five “Steel City” senior bowlers are:

1. Marv Sargent 228 (average)
2. Jim Starks 225
3. Dan Ebertz 220
4. Mike Reynolds 218
5. Bobby Lyons 216

The top series of the season (799) was rolled by Marv Sargent. Perfect games (300) were rolled by Merril Nan- nally and Mike Reynolds.

Congratulations to the men listed above for their outstanding scoring and thanks to DARWIN BALDING AND LEE FITZGERALD for providing the information used in this article.

Lee is secretary of the largest and best senior league in Southern California — the Fontana Highland: Steinblossom League (Trio League) in which the scores reported above were bowled.
Herzog Moves Into The Round Lead; Keystone and Sysco Get Closer

Round Winner Decided Next Week and Wild Card Week 8

by David Yenush

The rest of the matches for the night had no playoff implications as teams bowled for overall wins to add a few bucks to their envelopes. Erickson’s Food took 4 from Smirnoff led by DaveRoss Bowler’s 682 while Arnold Cheeseman bowled them for 740 for Smirnoff. Los Altos Trophy was 4-1 winners over Crown Royal led by Nick Rodriguez at 686, while Eddie Gaddison was high for Crown Royal at 654. Threadworks took 4 from Professional Approach on the strength of Paul Vaz’s 683 set. Herman Ferguson was high for Pro Approach with a 648 set. Forest Lanes bowled Gym W.R.A.T.T. Fitness for a 4-1 sweep with sub Rob Renko putting up a nice 705 effort. Ryan Hall subbed to 636 to lead Gym W.R.A.T.T. for the night.

In the battle of the round winners, the overall race tightened up to Keystone Lanes dropped 4 games to Syxian. Charlie Kinsler led Syxian with a nice 668 set while Eddie VanDijk put up 662 for Keystone. With two weeks to go, Keystone remains the top seed at 104 wins but Syxian is right on their heels at 102 and another face to face battle next week on the low-scoring Nationals pattern. Wunder Pac Inc. has almost set Parkin’s Bowling Supply in the 4th seed position with just two weeks to go. Western took 4 led by Ralph Ramirez’ 660 while Parkin’s knocked out a game three win with Ray Minter putting up a nice 713 effort. Western is 6 points behind Syxian in the third spot and Parkin’s is 9 behind Western with just ten points left up for grabs.

Sideswipes went to Herbert Jones (288) and DaveRoss Bowler’s (247) for $56 each while the second game Super Pot went to Arnold Cheeseman (289) for $159. Financial Advisor’s third game pot went to Billy Myers Jr. (300) for $200 with second to Jon Dino (259) for $100. Come our Monday night at 8:30 and watch the best scratch players in the county go head to head for the $66 each and watch the best scratch league in the area take the lanes at Del Rio as a team will be crowned 7th round winners on the National pattern next week!
