EJ Tackett Wins Inaugural Main Event PBA Tour Finals for Third 2017 Title

ORLANDO, Fla. – After winning his first GEICO Chris Schenkel PBA Player of the Year Award in 2016 at age 24, EJ Tackett of Huntington, Ind., has indicated he’s not ready to relinquish his role as the Professional Bowlers Association’s premier player. Tackett became the 2017 season’s first three-time title winner when he defeated Australia’s Jason Belmonte, 666-628, in the three-game total pinfall title match in the inaugural Main Event PBA Tour Finals at Main Event Entertainment.

The finals aired on CBS Sports Network. Tackett earned $30,000 (along with his eighth career PBA Tour title) which will go toward his two-year earnings total in his ongoing bid for a return trip to the 2018 Main Event PBA Tour Finals.

EJ Tackett with Main Event Senior Promotions Manager Jeremy Carter

Tackett won his berth in the title match as winner of the Group Two preliminary rounds, topping 18-time PBA Tour champion Tommy Jones of Simpsonville, S.C.; Dom Barrett of England, and Ryan Ciminelli of Cheektowaga, N.Y. Belmonte had an uphill battle in his four-player pod, but led Group One over competitors Jesper Svensson of Sweden; Sean Rash of Montgomery, Ill., and Anthony Simonsen of Austin, Texas.

In the title match against Belmonte, who had held the PBA Player of the Year title for three years in a row before Tackett overtook him in 2016, Belmonte took a one-pin lead after the first game, 225-224. Tackett then took charge, winning game two, 222-191, when Belmonte failed to convert two difficult splits. The young Indiana high-rev player kept Belmonte at bay throughout game three, winning again, 220-212, for a 38-pin margin of victory.

“That was a lot harder than I wanted to work,” said the 24-year-old Tackett, “but I’m grateful to be standing here as the winner. It’s a dream come true.”

With both players struggling to start the match, Kent fired four consecutive strikes in the ninth and 10th frames to defeat Barnes, 194-188, during the ESPN telecast contested on two specially-installed lanes in the Grand Hotel Event Center for his first win on national television.

“Historically, Marshall has been a bowler who is able to come back with strikes in the eighth, ninth and the first two in the 10th to clinch the win,” Kent said. “I knew after the seventh frame I still had a chance...” cont.
George and Justin Pluchino Represent Formidable Father-Son Combination

Nationally and locally, there have been plenty of father-and-son bowling dynamics.

Now, we may have to add George and Justin Pluchino to the list.

George, the dad, is the first to say that he needs to make considerable improvement before he and his wunderkind 21-year-old son are ready to join that elite father-son level.

But the fact is: George is no slouch. And Justin continues to put up head-turning numbers. The two represent quite a formidable force.

The Pluchinos are now part of the same team in a Winnetka Bowl summer league on Tuesday nights. Their teammates include Jayne Pluchino, the mother and wife; and Ethan Thomas.

Late last month, Justin added a perfect game (his seventh) and an 800 series (his third) to his rapidly expanding resume. George, who averaged about 200 in the early 2000s at Matador Bowl, is averaging 172 with a 204 high during the early going of the summer season.

Justin, the anchor, is averaging 220 and recently won one of the two 290 games, missing a perfect game twice because of an errant shot (foot foul) on his final shot. “I killed two 300s in my life,” he said with a laugh.

The Pluchino-Thomas team, incidentally, ranks in the upper echelon of its highly competitive league.

“He got nothing from me,” said George, laughing. “I can’t take credit.”

In any event, George is a talented bowler in his own right, owning a powerful 724 series. He’s also bowled 290s, missing a perfect game twice because of an errant shot (foot foul) on his final shot. “I killed two 300s in my life,” he said with a laugh.

The Pluchino-Thomas team, incidentally, ranks in the upper echelon of its highly competitive league.

“Hopefully, I can get better,” George said.

If he does, the Pluchino duo may take up residence alongside the Webers, Tripps, Engleharts and Lews.

The Greatest Bowler of Them All

by Dave Williams

During my career in bowling I had an opportunity to work at AMF for many years. It was in those years that I met and became friends with Dick Weber, whom I always referred to as “Bowling’s Ambassador to the World.”

I talk about him frequently and relate stories about Mr. Weber and the way he touched so many lives. I never really understood how much he meant to me, until he passed away in 2005, a little over 12 years ago.

One of my favorite memories of Dick occurred in 1982. I had recently been promoted to National Promotions Manager for the AMF Bowling Centers chain and moved to AMF’s Bowling Headquarters in Westbury, New York.

It was about this same time that the top brass at AMF were pushing Dick aside to make room for their new crop of PBA bowling stars. I saw this as an opportunity to use Mr. Weber in any way that I could to promote AMF Bowling Centers.

As fate would have it, I received a call from one of our youth directors, Sandy Cooper, at AMF Muskegon Lanes. The manager of the bowling center, Larry Wenger, had died of a heart attack and she was looking for a way to raise funds for the Heart Association.

I suggested having Dick Weber as a special guest and she thought that would be perfect. Now I just had to come up with a way for all of the participants to be able to compete with Mr. Weber at the same time.

Viola! The “I Beat Dick Weber…Once!” Contest came to me while driving home from work on the longest parking lot in the world, the Long Island Expressway. I would have a special emblem developed with the silhouette of the most famous bowler of all time, and provide that to all of the participants that beat Dick Weber, with handicap (80% of 200).

The excitement in the community of Muskegon, ironically the home of Brunswick’s manufacturing plant, was electric. As the entries continued to rise, Sandy had to coordinate five separate squads in the 42-lane center. Even veteran distaff star bowler Marion Ladewig, the managing owner of nearby Sherman Lanes, was scheduled to make an appearance.

Weber’s fee was $1,000 plus expenses, so it was easy to distribute that amount over so many entries to make it cost effective. The final count prior to the event was 610 paid entries. And Weber had agreed to bowl each squad, which meant that every squad was like a new event and would encourage registrations to those that didn’t beat his score in previous attempts.

When I called Dick to tell him of our plans, I informed him that I would pick him up at the Grand Rapids Airport, since there were no direct flights to Muskegon; and we would drive to Muskegon together the night before, since the festivities were to begin at 7AM.

You can imagine the excitement I felt after I picked Dick up at the Grand Rapids Airport and began the drive to Muskegon. My attempts to talk about anything I could think of must have made Mr. Weber wonder if I was a sane person.

But he seemed to understand and just nodded as I babbled on about the weather, bowling, Budweiser, St. Louis, etc. It was about this time that Dick pointed up to an overhead road sign and said, “Wasn’t that the exit for Muskegon?”

“Oh no,” I replied. “We have a way to go yet.”

As we were approaching the Indiana border I had to admit that I missed the turnoff as I was babbling my head off, and we turned around and headed north for Muskegon. We finally got to the hotel at about 2AM.

The next day we went to a 7AM breakfast with about 200 screaming youth bowlers, followed by five consecutive squads of bowling starting at 9AM and wrapping up at about Midnight. But Mr. Weber never complained, bowled every squad, and was the perfect gentleman to all.

When I returned to AMF Headquarters on Monday, Woody Woodruff called me into his office and said, “I’ve got Dick Weber on the phone.” I thought, boy am I in trouble now. Between getting him lost, and bowling all those squads without so much as a lunch break… oh well, it was a fun job while it lasted!

Woody put Dick on the speaker phone and he said inquisitively, “Dave, do you have a road map?”

He never let me forget that day. Whenever I would call or greet him he would always ask if I had my road map. I always considered it an honor just to know the man, but when he remembered my name, and the reference to Muskegon (… “got your road map?”), well that just made my day.

The “I Beat Dick Weber…Once!” tournament would continue for many years, with the bowling center securing the most in-house entries earning the right to a live Dick Weber appearance at their location the following year.

I never let Dick Weber know that I was a Geography major in college! Eratosthenes* would never forgive me.

but I had to buckle down and make good shots. Finally, I executed the way I should have and was fortunate to put those strikes together.”

Kent, who was the top qualifier for the finals averaging 227.4 for the tournament contested on four different PBA lane conditions, earned the opportunity to choose the lane conditions for both Saturday’s semi-final and Sunday’s championship stepladder rounds. He chose the 40-foot Bear lane condition for Saturday’s round but changed his selection to the 32-foot Wolf condition for the championship round.

“In the semi-final the right side (of the lane) got a little ugly and the guys were struggling,” Kent said. “It just didn’t develop the way I thought and felt I would have a more consistent reaction on the Wolf. I was good with my decision, I just had to execute.”

Kent had not won a match on television in six appearances which included three run-up finishes that came in the 2016 U.S. Open, 2015 Wolf Open and 2013 Scorpion Open. “This win was important for my confidence,” Kent said. “I proved I have the versatility to compete on a variety of lane conditions and I can win in a pressure situation.”

In the opening match, Barnes, who qualified fourth for the finals, defeated six-time Tour winner Jesper Svensson of Sweden, 190-149, who earned his berth in the championship round by winning Saturday’s semi-final round. In the second match Kent beat Thor Svingen and No. 3 qualifier Rhino Page of Orlando, 206-185, to advance to the semi-final match where he beat three-time PBA Player of the Year Jason Belmonte of Australia, 256-218.

After a slow start in the tournament, finishing 28th after the first round and 12th after the third round earlier in the week, Belmonte surged to the no. 2 qualifying spot for the finals by averaging 256 in the fourth round on the 44-foot Oklahoma lane condition.

The next stop for the PBA Tour will be the Storm PBA/PWBA Striking Against Breast Cancer Mixed Doubles July 27-30 in Houston.

Another Reminder About Bowling Etiquette

by Fred Eisenhammer

When will bowlers learn?
One can never remind players enough about bowling etiquette. This may be an appropriate time for that reminder because many new bowlers are starting their summer seasons – and they still haven’t gotten the message.

As for those veteran bowlers who should know better... well, it doesn’t hurt to hear this lecture again. Remember, you’re not bowling in a vacuum. There are bowlers all around you. If you forget everything else, just remember this: Be considerate.

OK, so do you have a pet peeve about etiquette and courtesy when you bowl?
I have one.
When I release the ball at the foul line, oftentimes a bowler on an adjoining lane will thunder to my side and rifle his or her ball while I’m still tracking my shot and anticipating my upcoming pin action (or lack thereof).

It’s easy to get startled by such an ill-mannered bowler... and annoyed. Why can’t that bowler just wait a few seconds and allow me to watch my electrifying shot (thinking positively) before I triumphantly return to my seat?
The fact is that rudeness often prevails in a bowling house. It’s rarely intentional, but it can produce a heart-stopping – and irritating – moment or two.

On the same topic, perfectbowling.com, a nifty website that provides bowling tips, advice and other interesting data, came up with its list of nine bowling rules for etiquette and courtesy.

So here goes – the etiquette rules from perfectbowling.com:

1 – The first rule is to never bother another bowler while they are in the process of bowling.
2 – Bowlers on the right-hand lane have the right-of-way to bowl first.
3 – Never pick up your ball from the return rack while another bowler is preparing to bowl and is in his/her starting position.

Fred Eisenhammer: In other words, don’t be so eager to take your shot. The pins will still be standing there!
4 – Refrain from using obscenities or vulgar gestures.
5 – After your shot, let others bowl.

Fred Eisenhammer: In other words, don’t linger on the lane after your shot.
6 – Wear proper shoes.
7 – Keep food and other refreshments off the approach.
8 – Remember, there are others waiting to bowl.

Fred Eisenhammer: In other words, don’t wander off aimlessly... or socialize too long when your turn is about to arrive.
9 – Above all else, have fun.

I’ll add Rule No. 10 to the list:
10 – Let the bowler next to you complete his or her turn and walk back to his or her seat before you start your approach.

Of course, it’s inevitable that some bowlers will slip up from time to time, so it’s important not to get flustered if someone violates one of these rules.

No slamming your bowling ball on the lane in disgust. Distractions happen – even when pros are bowling. Remember, it’s just a game.
